CREC Title III Consortium members are invited to attend bimonthly consortium meetings to share best practices, emerging research on improving outcomes for EL students, and to proactively respond to the instructional shifts demanded by the Connecticut Core Standards (CCS), assessments and the new English Language Proficiency (CELP) Standards.

- Consortium members have the opportunity to participate in a professional learning community that builds on the needs of English Learners.
- Members have the benefit of requesting specific topics relevant to EL instruction, receiving updates regarding state and regional professional development opportunities, and obtaining up-to-date information regarding Title III and instruction for EL students.
