Great news! The Middle and High schools meeting will be held at the Connecticut Center for Arts and Technology (ConnCAT)! ConnCAT is a nonprofit organization based on the model of Bill Strickland's, National Center for Arts and Technology, which is dedicated to creating empowering arts-based educational environments for at-risk public school students and training programs for under and unemployed adults.

Erik Clemons, founding CEO and President of ConnCAT, has an extensive background in non-profit management and organizational leadership. His presentation will focus on Purposeful Partnerships. Participants will gain knowledge on how to build intentional and meaningful collaborations to help programs access essential resources and supports for students. The morning will also include a tour of ConnCAT's beautiful learning space and an option to purchase lunch in their student run café.
