Description: To best serve the increasing number of English Learners (ELs) in our classrooms, educators need strategies and tools to help them reflect on their practice. In this workshop, participants learn to use the resource, The Coaching and Self-Reflection Tool for Competency in Teaching English Learners, in professional coaching conversations, in self-reflection on BEST Practices for English Learners, and for reflection and discussion for any teacher of English Learners.

Audience: Administrators, coaches, school and district leaders, TESOL and classroom teachers, and other support staff
