With the upcoming NGSS high stakes Connecticut assessment, prepare your teachers, coaches, and students for success! This opportunity allows for STEM coaches and team leaders to turnkey the launch series to their staff.

To aid in implementation of new NGSS units and pedagogical approaches to science instruction, CREC is offering grade specific launch series. These multi-session series provide teachers and coaches with a hands-on approach to understanding the unit phenomenon, storyline, content, and instructional practices required for successful implementation.
