Programs that integrate social-emotional learning (SEL) strategies in an intentional way help children and youth develop critical life skills. Research suggests that when these practices are evident, students perform better academically, have increased school attendance, and exhibit prosocial behaviors (Durlak & Weissberg, 2013; Vandell, Reisner, & Pierce, 2007).

Our keynote speaker will be Tara Doaty, Ph.D., Founder & Lead Consultant of the Sage Wellness Group, LLC. Dr. Doaty will speak to the importance of social-emotional learning opportunities in afterschool programs.

Keynote Speaker

Tara Doaty, Ph.D.,

Founder & Lead Consultant of the Sage Wellness Group, LLC.

The showcase will feature interactive sessions that highlight strong social-emotional enrichment activities in afterschool programs. Attendees will have time to share resources with colleagues from throughout the state. Please be reminded that at least two staff representing each funded grantee is required to attend.
