

21st Century Community Learning Centers Middle and High School Meetings 2019-2020

The Connecticut State Department of Education and the Capitol Region Education Council (CREC) are excited to announce the dates for the 2019-2020 21st Century Community Learning Center (21st CCLC) Middle and High School Meetings. 21st CCLC grantees who serve students in the middle and high school grades are provided with opportunities to attend three Middle and High School Meetings each year.

These meetings have been created specifically for after school professionals to help them meet the identified needs of middle and high school students and families. Participants will network with peers to share practices and resources from the field. National, state and local resources to support the implementation of practices will also be provided.

Please bring a laptop or other device for note taking and access to online resources.

Eligible grantees are encouraged but not required to send appropriate staff to represent programs and disseminate information back to their programs.
