

New Construction

Occupying

Staff Orientation and Training

Both professional and non-professional staff shall be formally oriented to the new facility and trained where necessary to insure optimal use of the facility and its equipment and to insure proper facility maintenance is provided.